George BADITA is Founder & CEO of ixodron. Under his leadership, ixodron became a fast-growing IT&C company and, most important, imposed itself as a pioneer in hyperconverged infrastructure for modern datacenter and hybrid cloud solutions.

He is passionate about new technologies, business strategy and entrepreneurship. He holds a bachelor's degree in IT, a master's degrees in Geopolitics and an Executive MBA.

ixodron is an IT&C company dedicated to solving complex business and operational challenges through consulting and solution design, business process services, IT modernization, managed services and software development. ixodron enables clients and communities to integrate into the digital economy and reap the associated benefits. It's a journey that we complete together, becoming true partners in the process.